PA, I thought it was great at first. The phone and the camera are okay. You do get a cheap BB with it though. the camera works, but the phone part doesn't BlackBerry Phones are notorious for being slow. And it's not just phones. Routers, TV, etc. It's very frustrating. But wait! This one works! It's from 2010 though and was only $80 and is brand new and in perfect condition. I got it all for $14.95 which is a steal! You can even add an unlimited plan for $29.95 a month and get 5000 minutes and unlimited text, 5 MB. Can't beat that. I'm pretty savvy on buying stuff online, but I'm no computer whiz. I spent too many hours searching when I should have just purchased this phone at my local store for $79.95. Shop around for the best deals. If you are in the area you can go to your nearest Walmart, Target, etc. and save big with a 2-year service plan. Or go to the Walmart website and they offer a rebate on your bill by using a coupon they send out. Another option is to offer your services for free to a group, or a church. Talk to your neighbors about it. They could get a discount on the device from you giving it away. You should be able to find a deal on a cheap phone with a SIM (you have to either buy it online or find a store that's willing to unlock it). If you sign up for a data plan, you'll be able to make calls, surf the internet, and text while you're at home or out and about. I used to work retail so I'm very good at finding the best deals. Comments No Comments Found Sponsored Links About Networking I'm a regular guy just like you. No fancy lab equipment, flashy clothes or a big paycheck. My friends and family don't know that one of my top purchases is a $3 foot stool. I do, however, have a whole lot of luck. I make a small salary and work with some of the best service, networking,
